

Sarah Dolby

Born 1971, New Zealand

Sarah graduated from the Dunedin School of Fine Arts in 2000. She was then employed as a 3D animator by Animation Research Ltd and was the first artist to compliment a team of computer scientists. Eventually Sarah took on the role of creative director until recently, when she resigned to focus on her art career.

Throughout her twenties Sarah travelled extensively. She spent months at a time in remote locations of Indonesia, including camping in the Sumbawa jungle where she was never without her sketchbook. While based in London for several years Sarah was able to immerse herself in the galleries of Europe and was heavily influenced by the Dutch Masters such as Van Eyck and Rembrandt, and the ornate historical beauty that the European cities had to offer.

Sarah has been exhibiting in both Dunedin and Auckland since 2004. She lives in Dunedin with her husband Richard and son Benjamin.
